

► The Beavers, a heavy engineering construction group based in Los Angeles, announces its 2009

GOODYEAR

NELSON

Golden Beaver awards. The management award winner is Ron Wells, president and CEO of Stacy and Witbeck Inc., an Alameda, Calif., rail contractor. John Nelson, western region vice president of Flatiron Construction Corp., Longmont, Colo., will receive the award for supervision. The group's engineering award will be presented to David Goodyear, senior vice president of T. Y. Lin International, San Francisco, and chief engineer for bridge engineering in its northwest U.S. office. Tony Federico, president of Superior Gunite, Lakeview Terrace, Calif., and of Johnson-Western Gunite, San Leandro, Calif., will receive the service and supply award for efforts to promote wet mix shotcrete as an alternative to poured-in-place concrete. The awards will be made at a Jan. 16 dinner at the Hyatt Regency Century Plaza hotel in Los Angeles.

WELLS

FEDERICO